

Join the EcoLiteracy Challenge

Help your school build a more sustainable community!

The EcoLiteracy Challenge is a one-stop shop for water and sustainability related curriculum, projects, presentations, field trips, and more that are designed to engage and excite everyone around our most precious resource: water.

By completing activities and submitting photos of your actions to the website, you can even earn points for your school! You can choose from the activities on the ELC menu, or create your own.

Engaged schools and individuals will be awarded at the fourth annual Green Schools Conference in June 2019!
